STRIKE BY POLICE WAITS ON DECISION OF CURTIS

$39,000 IN JEWELS STOLEN

Two Maine Homes Entered by Burglars, Who Make Escape

York Beach, Me., Aug. 26.—Following the sensational announcement of the burglary at the home of Llewellyn Parsons, where jewels valued at $14,000 were stolen from Mrs. W. Seward Webb and Mrs. Vanderbilt Webb, came the announcement today that during the early morning hours the home of John C. Breckenridge at York Corner was entered and jewels valued at at between $20,000 and $25,000 stolen.

As a result of this second robbery in which automobile thieves figured, all York County is in arms. Deputy Sheriff Ernest L. Jones is in active charge of the hunt for the burglars. In his high powered motorcycle he is now out running down a clue re-

BAY STATE MEN VOTE TO STRIKE

Street Railway Workers May Stop Work Early Tomorrow Morning

Tabulation today of the strike vote taken by employes of the Bay State Street Railway Company showed that the men of thirteen out of the fifteen districts of the system were almost unanimously in favor of striking and of rejecting the recent wage award made by the National War Labor Board two weeks ago today.

The result of the tabulation of the strike ballot, with Chelsea and Gloucester still to come, was announced at 1:30 o'clock at the Quincy House by William J. Murphy of Woburn, chairman of the joint conference board of the men's unions.

Mr. Murphy added that, after the tabulation was completed, the conference board would meet and possibly set a strike date.

He continued:

"Within two or three hours we will know definitely how the whole situation stands."

Tabulation of the strike ballot began at 11 o'clock in Room 405 at the Quincy House, in the presence of union officials.

Previous to the tabulation Chairman Murphy had announced that an immediate strike was inevitable de-

FEENEY AND VAHEY DEFEND MEN

Following arguments by Attorneys James H. Vahey and John P. Feeney, counsel for the eight police officers on trial for affiliating with the American Federation of Labor, Commissioner Edwin U. Curtis today took the matter under advisement and stated he would render a decision as soon as possible.

Upon the decision to be rendered by the commisssioner rests the question of whether or not there is to be a policeman's strike in Boston.

Counsel for the eight patrolmen denounced the rule which prohibited men from joining labor organizations as invalid, and declared that the policemen had violated no rule.

They declared that the policemen were public employes, and as such were as much justified in joining labor organizations as firemen and laborers.

Attorney Vahey dramatically described the experiences of policemen in the American Expeditionary Forces overseas, and asserted that it was only after they came back that they were regarded as public officials.

Mr. Vahey, who followed Attorney Feeney, said in part:

"I regard this rule to be the greatest invasion of a man's personal liberty and the most far-reaching attempt to restrict his freedom of action I have ever known. The question of supreme importance for every man who has to work is collective bargaining against the individual contract.

"There have been individual contracts imposed on employes by employers, that have been unjust, unfair, iniquitous and one-sided. These cases to which I refer represented a demand on the part of the employer with his employe to deal with him alone.

"The history of the American Federation of Labor is a history of

BURGLARS ENTER 2 MORE PLACES IN MIDDLESEX

Two breaks, added to the list of recent similar offences committed in Middlesex County, were reported to the police today in Waltham and Needham. The first occurred on Sunday, when the tailor shop of Joseph Forman, No. 175 Moody street, was entered and three suits and two pairs of trousers taken.

The factory of William Wise, Needham, was entered August 22 and looted of one dozen men's sweaters, a dozen and a half of women's shawls and two dozen Tam o'Shanters.

Floating Hospital

This is not a "drive" but our annual appeal for the sick babies and anxious mothers of Greater Boston.

Read the following from our annual report:

This growth of our work with the universally high cost of commodities emphasizes the appeal of the Trustees for contributions much larger than last year. Generous as our contributors have been in the past, the importance of the work, filling a need not met by any other agency, and supplementing the work of practically all other child-welfare organizations, justifies the appeal. The Trustees also ask the inquiring interest of that large public which has not heretofore participated in the work, satisfied that knowledge of our methods, administrative, financial, and scientific, and the results attained, will transmute that interest into substantial aid to the sick children of Greater Boston for whom we work and speak.

Special Service to Employers Needing Help

The Want Ad Takers of the Boston American will relieve you of all the petty details incidental to the insertion of a Want Ad.

All you need do is telephone Main 5150 and ask for the Want Ad Department.

You will be connected with one of a corps of intelligent young women, all of whom are experienced in Want advertising.

She will write your ad for you, put it into effective form, using the fewest possible words—if you will tell her just what kind of help you need.

And next day your advertisement will appear before a larger audience than you could reach through any other Boston evening paper.

The best source for any kind of help is the biggest source—the place where most people are looking for employment.

So, naturally, the American's large circulation will produce results.

IDLE RICH MUST WORK TO PAY WAR DEBTS, SAYS BERNARD SHAW

DECLARES EVERYBODY HAS TO LABOR TO SAVE ENGLAND

By GEORGE BERNARD SHAW,

(The Brilliant Irish Author.)

[illegible]

London, Aug. 26.—Great Britain is forty billion dollars in debt. We have two proposals to deal with the situation.

One is to pay off the debt by a levy on wealth [illegible] out of work, and [illegible] blazes for the army during the war.

The other is not to pay it off at all but go on borrowing.

The last [illegible] nature in it; the other is sheer [illegible]. Neither is practicable, though a levy, like the "assignats" of the French Revolution, [illegible] tried on the assumption that it really [illegible] $[illegible] of available money to pay with.

My solution of the problem is quite simple and sensible and therefore has been refused [illegible] by all parties.

ALL MUST WORK.

When a country is at war everybody has to do his bit to pay for it, every [illegible] is a slacker, conscientious objector like the coal duke who informed the [illegible] that he "lived by owning" [illegible] be dealt with as conscientious objectors were dealt with during the war, with the difference perhaps of a little decency and humanity.

Until our [illegible] is cleared to the uttermost [illegible] no able-bodied man or woman should be exempt from the obligation to do a fair day's work towards paying it off.

Ruthless and thorough conscription of productive labor for all classes alike and unsparing extirpation of the idler, that is the only genuine solution of the financial problem. It would be nothing new for nine-tenths of us; the whip of starvation kept us bending over the ears of our [illegible] without any legislation except the factory act that prevented us from being worked to death.

NOT A POINT OF HONOR.

The labor party has been hard at work preparing practical and constitutional solutions for the social, political and industrial problems in Britain. No other party has even discovered how not to do it. The labor party leaders at least are not miseducated, socially entangled and intimidated as our [illegible] pseudo-statesmen are.

Their point of honor is not the social point of honor. For example, when, as at present, there is a clear issue between honest labor and reactionary brigandism, they will not interfere on behalf of the brigands. In civil statesmanship look, for example, at Mr. [illegible] (former food controller) [illegible] leader of labor movement, [illegible] that of the miners). He proved his capability. There was never any [illegible] to [illegible] Lord Rhondda (who [illegible] as food controller and who [illegible] capable as he was, could never shake off that suspicion.

Of course, [illegible] knew, but outside the little group of statesmen actually [illegible], Unionists and Liberals talked like school boys. Labor men trained in international conferences knew that the Russian revolution must be taken seriously and that the alternative to Kerensky was not Grand Duke Nicolas, but Lenine and Trotsky.

Silly class-ridden benches in the House thought Kerensky was the devil in person and played into Lenine's hands.

PACE TOO FAST IN U. S., SAYS BARTLETT

N. H. Governor Declares "Grab Game" Is Being Practiced by All

Londonderry, N. H., Aug. 26.—"Bolshevism is not a local disease, it is [illegible] a mental state which, to a degree of less extent, is seizing all of us," said Governor Bartlett today in an address on the 200th anniversary of Londonderry. This was the third and final day of the celebration, which was observed in Londonderry, Windham and other communities originally included in the old Londonderry.

Governor Bartlett emphasized the sterling qualities of mind, heart and soul which have from the beginning characterized dwellers in hamlets and rural communities.

SAYS ALL ARE "GRABBING."

"We should all love to witness some hanging of a conspicuously cruel and vicious profiteer," he said, "but at the same time we, ourselves, [illegible] to practice the 'grab game.' The trouble is we are all going at too fast a pace, all going in excess of our financial speed limit, and so to keep up the mad chase we do as others do, and then proceed to justify ourselves on that ground. We must all begin to steady down and sober [illegible], do it at once, and do it all together if we are to steady our ship of state.

"Those who have become fabulously rich because of unfortunate war conditions are too fond of parading their riches in the presence of the poor. The stream of [illegible] motors to [illegible] is unsettling to the eyes of a [illegible] hoeing corn by the roadside, and his head begins to [illegible] and to swim.

"The use of power wrongfully by the rich suggests the use of power wrongfully by the poor. Whichever the way such a pendulum swings is equally bad. All classes, all extremes, all interests, have great need to at once subordinate themselves properly to the paramount power of the great government which must protect us all. No one can be allowed to subvert in the slightest any of the fundamental principles of good government in order to gain an advantage over some other.

CALLS FOR HONESTY.

"There is danger that the secret power of monopoly over food may lead to the non-secret violence of the hungry.

"All must work, work hard, work faithfully and economize after the manner of the olden-time folk, and all must practice honesty and fair dealing as they practiced it.

"Having successfully passed the swift floods of war, let us not wreck in the insidious eddies of peace."

EVEN M'LORD CAN'T BEAT HIS DOG IN ENGLAND

London, Aug. 25.—Another of the "inalienable" rights of the British nobility has disappeared. This one is beating dogs.

Lord Rochdale was fined $75, including costs, for beating his retriever dog first with a club and then with a putting iron on a golf links. A. S. P. C. A. inspector protested, and Lord Rochdale kicked him on the shins for his "impertinence."

FISHERMAN BACK WITH ONE OF CREW MISSING

With the flag half-masted for the loss of one of her crew, the fishing schooner Ethel B. Penney, Captain Fred Chetwynd, arrived at the Fish Pier from South Channel grounds.

William Brown strayed away in the dense fog last Friday morning while engaged in hauling trawls and could not be located despite a thorough search. His mates on the Penney feel certain that he was picked up by some Provincetown schooner, several of which were seen in the vicinity when the fog lifted.

CHARGED WITH LIBERTY BOND THEFT IN QUINCY

Quincy officers left today for Jersey City to bring back Joseph H. Snelling, 22, charged with the larceny of Liberty Bonds and jewelry worth $750 from Joseph A. Bean of No. 319 Sea street, Hough's Neck. Snelling roomed at Bean's house, and vanished. It is alleged he took the valuables with him.

FIND WHISKEY STILL HIDDEN IN TREE

BAR CLAIRVOYANTS FROM FINDING LOST TREASURE

Los Angeles, Aug. 26.—A new "spook" law is in effect in Los Angeles. While clairvoyants may not "locate" gold, silver and diamond mines, or recover stolen property, or make any prophesies as to what shall take place in the future, it is perfectly right to assist in finding lost loved ones, lost relatives and lost friends.

U. S. SHIPS HUNT ARMS BOUND FOR MEXICO

Munitions Shipped Secretly, Reported Aboard the Morro Castle

New York, Aug. 26.—What is believed to be a plot to ship secretly to Mexico arms and ammunition contraband was uncovered here by members of the bomb squad of the New York police department.

The contraband was declared to have been shipped from this port in ten trunks aboard the steamship Morro Castle, which sailed Friday for Havana and Vera Cruz.

The Navy Department and the United States Customs Intelligence Bureau have been notified and it is reported that destroyers of the United States navy will be sent to intercept the steamer.

At least part of the goods said to be on the way to Mexico were sold by a New York sporting goods house on August 16, it was claimed. Shipments were traced by detectives to a house in West Sixty-fourth street.

The house was raided as soon as the evidence was secured, but too late to stop the shipment. The detectives discovered a bill of sale for 17,000 rounds of ammunition and 250 pounds of powder.

From the raided house two men were traced to a hotel, where they had registered as Alexander Salazedo and Jules Salazar. Neither was to be found.

The police believe both are passengers on the Morro Castle, and that they were Mexican agents.

Later the police discovered five trunks containing rifles and powder, which were believed to be awaiting shipment.

BOY KILLED IN RIOTING AT SPRINGFIELD, ILL., MINE

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26.—Rioting at the Montour Coal Company mine here today, as a result of the factional strike between coal miners, resulted in the killing of a fourteen-year-old boy. When strike pickets attempted to prevent workers from returning to the mine a free-for-all fight began, in which revolvers, bricks and clubs were used. Many shots were fired before police and deputy sheriffs arrived and dispersed the mob.

Going Up; $54,000,000 Is Deposited in Savings Banks

More than $54,000,000 was deposited in the savings banks of Massachusetts during the eight months ending June 30 last, according to a statement made today by Bank Commissioner Augustus L. Thorndike.

If the same rate is maintained during the next four months the total for the year will be $81,[illegible], an amount more than $1[illegible] in excess of the best previous year in the history of Massachusetts savings banks.

Notwithstanding the greatly increased cost of living, however, the people have saved more money than ever before, for not alone has the savings bank record been broken, but $[illegible],979 additional has been deposited in the savings departments of trust companies, and this figure is more than $10,000,000 in excess of the deposits in these institutions for the entire preceding twelve months.

MEXICAN BANDIT LEADER KILLED, SAYS RANCHER

By International News Service.

Marfa, Tex., Aug. 26.—Despite official denials [illegible], the bandit leader, was killed during the [illegible] American expedition into Mexico [illegible].

Major [illegible] Smith, who commanded the [illegible] the hunt, said today the report of [illegible]'s death was given Captain Matlack by a rancher in the town of [illegible]. The rancher said that [illegible] Mexicans, claiming to be members of the gang which [illegible] the two American aviators, passed through there and told him that [illegible] had been killed by an aviator and that his body was [illegible] one of the canyons.

Although it is the usual thing for Mexican bandits to give out the report that they have been killed, some confirmation of [illegible]'s death was seen in the report that aviators had fired on a group of bandits and thought they had killed one, Major Smith said.

TONS OF FOOD ARE SHIPPED BY MAIL

Suspected Theft of Army Goods Reported to United States Attorney

Food by the [illegible] was shipped today from Army Warehouse No. [illegible], South Boston, to [illegible] mail orders that have been received in [illegible] more than a week. Railway mail service men and postal clerks from the central postal station, in charge of Frederick [illegible], J. W. [illegible] and [illegible], have established a system of handling the goods that is expected to empty the warehouse of its huge stocks within a short time.

The first order connected for shipment outside Boston was one of [illegible] cases for the postmaster at Concord, N. H.

Federal authorities stated today that the case of alleged theft of army foodstuffs, which was brought to their attention yesterday, was not within the jurisdiction of federal action, as the government had received its pay for the food. The case is one for the local authorities.

The district attorney's office has received information that at least one restaurant keeper had bought much army food at about one-half the army prices. [illegible] bought the goods.

WILLIAM C. STACY, VERMONT ARTIST, SLAIN, APPARENTLY BY ROBBER

INHERITED A FORTUNE RECENTLY

Wife and Housekeeper Heard Three Shots, Then Found Body; Police Puzzled

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 26.—An investigation of the death of William C. Stacy, a retired artist who was found in his home with bullet wounds in his head and breast and a pistol in his hand, convinced the police today that he was murdered by a robber "or somebody posing as a robber."

At first it was believed that Stacy had committed suicide, but circumstances surrounding the affair quickly led the police to discard this theory. The pistol, a twenty-two-calibre weapon, was found in his left hand, whereas Stacy was right-handed. It is declared that Stacy could not have inflicted the wounds he received with a pistol held in his left hand.

A silver service, wrapped in a tablecloth and resting on the table under which the aged artist's body was found, indicated that he had surprised a thief when he went downstairs from his bedchamber to make sure the house was locked up safely, but the police are not entirely satisfied that such was the case.

One of the dining room windows was open and the sash was found to bear marks which may have been made by a thief in forcing an entrance. A frayed necktie, which could not be identified by members of the household and which was found on the floor of the rooms, is the only clew the police possess to the identity of the murderer.

Mrs. William Stacy, wife of the murdered man; Mrs. Elcka Roberts, housekeeper, and Miss Eugenia LaFavourite, niece of Stacy, were in the house when he met his death. Mrs. Roberts discovered the body after hearing three shots. One of these had entered Stacy's body just below the heart, one had lodged in his head above the left ear, and the third had entered the top of his head. Powder marks on the body indicated that the shots had been fired at close range.

Stacy was considered well-to-do, and it is reported that only recently he inherited a considerable sum of money.

MORE CHANGES ARE MADE IN TREATY

Committee Votes Against U. S. Membership in Foreign Commissions

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 26.—By a straight party vote of 9 to 7, the Republicans in control of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee agreed today to amend textually the treaty of Versailles on a sweeping scale so as to eliminate representation by the United States on almost all of the commissions created by the treaty.

They decided to pass over the League of Nations and to leave the reparation commission untouched for the time being, but agreed to strike out the words "and associated powers," as including the United States, from some fifty odd places in the document, where the duties and powers of the various commissions were specified or described.

"The first amendment adopted today provides for the elimination of the United States from the German-Belgian frontier commission.

The nine Republican members, with the exception of McCumber, voted solidly for, and the seven Democratic members against the amendment. Its adoption, following so soon after the adoption of the Shantung amendment, was regarded as foreshadowing textual amendments "all along the line" which would plunge the Senate itself into a bitter fight when the treaty was reported to it.

The charge that they were using Shantung as a pretext to kill the treaty and that they were risking war between the United States and Japan to defeat the League of Nations was made against Senator Lodge and eight other Republican members of the Foreign Relations Committee by Senator McCumber in the Senate this afternoon.

McCumber was the only Republican who voted against the Shantung amendment when it was adopted by the committee on Saturday.

McCumber predicted the defeat of the Shantung amendment when it reached the Senate.

CITY HONORS ITALIAN GUESTS

Boston Embraces Opportunity to Pay Welcome to Sea Fighters

Festivities in honor of the visit of Cavour began today.

For the rest of the week the Italian residents of Greater Boston will observe an informal holiday, and Admiral Ugo Conz and the officers and crew of the visiting battleship will be whirled through a program of entertainment which will put their endurance to a severe test.

This is Boston's first opportunity to pay homage to Italy's sea fighters since the signing of the armistice, and Boston is making the most of it.

This morning Admiral Conz and his officers were escorted from the new Army Base in South Boston, where their vessel is docked, to Boston Common by a company of United States Marines from the Charlestown Navy Yard, a company of sailors from one of the United States naval vessels and a naval band.

At the Parkman Bandstand the distinguished guest and his officers were formally introduced to the people of Boston by Ambassador di Cellere, the Italian Ambassador to Washington.

Governor Charles A. Morss, of the Federal Reserve Bank, presided at the exercises on the Common and introduced the speakers, who included Governor Calvin Coolidge, Acting Mayor Francis J. W. Ford, Lieutenant Vittorio Orlandini, Admiral [illegible] of the Italian Embassy and other prominent officials.

National airs of the Allies were played by the band between the speeches, and Admiral Conz responded feelingly to the welcome extended to himself and his men.

Shortly after noon Acting Mayor Ford, on behalf of the city, was host to the officers of the Cavour at a luncheon at the Copley-Plaza, while the North End Company of the State Guard had the crew as their guests at a similar function at the Hotel Brunswick.

The North End Company of the State Guard took a prominent part in the parade from South Boston to the Common. Lieutenant Joseph Langone commanded the company, the majority of whose members are of Italian descent.

This afternoon from four until six o'clock, Admiral Robinson will hold a reception in honor of the visitors at the house of the commandant, Charlestown Navy Yard.

PORTSMOUTH OBJECTS TO B. & M. BUILDING

The building in question, a wooden structure, was removed from the company's coal dock to a location on Vaughan street, which comes within the fire zone. According to City Engineer William F. Woods the removal was in direct violation of the ordinance, and against his orders. The road maintains that the building is fireproof.

THREE AIRMEN LEAD NECK AND NECK RACE

Plumb, Coombs and Schroeder Doubling Back on Tracks to Finish Lines

By International News Service.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The great New York-Toronto aerial derby this afternoon developed into a thrilling neck-and-neck race between Lieutenant [illegible] Plumb, Sergeant [illegible] Coombs and Major R. W. Schroeder. Lieutenant Plumb, who reached Toronto from Mineola at 11:42, started on the return flight fifteen minutes later, arriving at Buffalo at 12:58. Meanwhile Coombs and Schroeder, who had arrived at Mineola last night, were doubling back on their tracks for the Canadian city as fast as their powerful planes could carry them. Lieutenant R. P. Medcalf, flying in a de Haviland Four, arrived from Syracuse at 12:15 on the New York to Toronto leg, and Major Simons roared in from Syracuse at 12:25. He also is using a de Haviland Four.

Roosevelt Field, Mineola, L. I., Aug. 26.—The New York-Toronto air race, America's greatest aerial derby, was resumed today under much better weather conditions than prevailed on the first day of the contest and five planes left for the Canadian city before 9:25 o'clock.

The airmen first to start were:

Lieutenant Philip Melville, in a Caproni at 8:50 o'clock.

Lieutenant Roulet in a de Haviland 4 at 8:52 o'clock.

Lieutenant F. Hassinger in a de Haviland 4 at 9:01 o'clock.

Captain C. H. Reynolds in a de Haviland 4 at 9:08 o'clock.

Lieutenant Ross Kilpatrick in a de Haviland 4 at 9:16 o'clock.

Lieutenant-Colonel William C. Barker, V. C., who left Toronto in a captured German Fokker machine, arrived at 9:20 o'clock, being the fourth of the airmen starting from Toronto to reach here.

BARKER BRINGS MAIL.

Lieutenant-Colonel Barker carried a bag of Canadian mail, which was immediately transferred to a machine that left for Washington. Contrary to reports, Lieutenant-Colonel Barker did not carry a message from the Prince of Wales for President Wilson.

Lieutenant-Colonel Barker left on his return flight at 11:15 o'clock. Owing to wounds received in the war he has to manipulate his plane with his right hand, as his left is useless. Lieutenant Roland Rholfs, flying in a Curtiss Oriole plane, also left for Toronto. He had arrived from the Canadian city at 7:18 last night.

Just before Coombs departed two more of the airmen who had left Toronto yesterday arrived at the Roosevelt field, bringing the number of arrivals from Toronto up to six. They were Lieutenant P. H. Logan, who got in at 9:24, and Bert Acosta, who reached the field at 9:31. Both men quickly overhauled their machines and started on the return journey. Logan tarried only fifteen minutes, but Acosta waited until 10 o'clock before he ascended and drove northward through the clouds.

SCHROEDER LEADS IN ALBANY.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Major Schroeder, in a V. E. 7, returning from New York to Toronto in the aerial derby race, was the first of the returning ones to reach Albany, landing at 11:03 a. m. Six minutes later he was followed by Sergeant Coombs.

Lieutenant Roulet, in No. 57, from New York, arrived at 10:11; Lieutenant Schiller in No. 62, from Toronto, arrived at 10:12; Captain Reynolds, from New York in No. 7, arrived at 10:22; H. H. George in No. 11, from New York, arrived at 10:26; Lieutenant Hassinger in No. 20, from New York, landed at 10:29 and Lieutenant Kirkpatrick, No. 25, at 10:30.

No. 64, one of the Canadian planes, dropped in at 10:49. Colonel Brandt, from New York, was closely followed by Lieutenant Melville in the big Caproni, No. 22.

Lieutenant Logan in No. 4 and Lieutenant Adams in No. 47, who reached here last night, left shortly after 8 o'clock and returned to Mineola as a result of smash-ups.

TEN ON THIRD LEG.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Ten planes got away from here on the third leg of the great international air Derby this morning, all of them going west. Of the ten one was forced to turn back. This was the machine of Captain Brown. The radiator was leaking.

Captain Harry Smith, who landed last night in a field eight miles away, got away today. Captain Donaldson, bound west, is held up at Oneida, 26 miles from here. Four planes arrived from Albany this morning. The pilots reported stiff winds and extremely low temperature. Lieut. Col. Harney was the first in from Albany today. He made the distance in 92 minutes.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Old Man High Cost has stepped on the tail of the Chicago bowbow. There is a serious shortage of bones.

No longer does little Willie pick up all the stray canines to be fed from the rich leavings from the family table.

"No, indeed," says ma. "We need all the scraps for hash!" And so the poor doggie has none.

About 10,000 fewer dog licenses were issued last year than in the preceding year.

Girl Calmly Smokes Cigarettes as She Sees Victim Die

Exclusive Cable to the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

Stockholm, Aug. 26.—How Dagmar Gyser, a beautiful sixteen-year-old girl, lured M. Ardasieff, a Russian patriot, to his doom and then stood calmly watching him in the anguish of his death throes while she smoked cigarettes, was brought out at the opening of the trial of the ringleader of the "Russian Murder League," which opened in this city.

The members of the league are accused of murdering two more Russians and a well known journalist, because of their anti-Bolshevik, [illegible] nature of Russia.

After taking some testimony the hearing has been adjourned for three weeks. Henning Denniston, a well-known Swedish lawyer, with important political connections, is pleading the defense. It was through his efforts the postponement was secured.

A number of the prisoners are women. One of them, Mme. Rankova, calmly admitted that she struck Ardasieff with a poker. While Ardasieff was lying unconscious from the blow, Mme. [illegible] [illegible] to make death certain.

This defendant did not look the part of a murderer. She was nicely dressed and [illegible]. The usual Swedish custom of trying prisoners in prison garb was not carried out in the present trial.

The only articles of prison garb the prisoners were compelled to don were coarse, heavy slippers. One of the captives wore the uniform of an army nurse.

Most of the prisoners admitted complicity in the murders with the exception of one, Lehe by name, who sought to interest the United States legation in his behalf. Lehe claims to be an American citizen.

DECIDE AGAINST TAX ON FOOD IN STORAGE

House Committee Favors Plan to Limit Time for Holding Products

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The taxing power of the government will not be invoked to control the cold storage industry and to force food products out of storage within given time limits, members of the House Agriculture Committee who are framing storage legislation said today.

Sentiment in the committee is in favor, they said, of Federal legislation placing a limit of time for holding in cold storage of food products and fixed on the nature of the product stored, with Federal inspection laws similar to those now provided for enforcement of the pure food and drug act.

Members of the committee believe that cold storage abuse is not so flagrant as to warrant the use of the taxing power to enforce regulatory legislation.

The committee took up today with Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former food expert of the government, questions concerning cold storage of apples and other fruits of which he has made a special study.

The committee expected to close all hearings this afternoon and to begin at once the framing of legislation to present for passage by the House. Chairman Haugen of the committee said today that the perfected bill would be before the House either late this week or early next week.

With the enactment of this bill into law the committee will await results to see if further legislation be necessary.

Discharged men who are continuing their war insurance are daily besieging the war risk insurance office about the treatment they receive from Washington. One man showed how he had paid his premium for the past four months and yet the department keeps nagging him for it. This is a general complaint among those who are continuing their war insurance. When they get any receipt it is only stamped with a stencil without any name attached to it. An insurance expert, to whom one of the receipts was shown, characterized the method as "very unbusinesslike," and said it would get somebody into trouble.

We know what he has done and we believe if anybody should be restored to duty he should be."

What Is a Call for "Anyone"?

The distinction between a person-to-person call and a station-to-station call is indicated by their names. In the former, you ask the toll operator to call some designated Person and get him on the line; in the latter, you simply ask the toll operator to connect you with his telephone.

The latter form of toll is simpler and quicker to handle; therefore, it costs only about three-fourths as much as the person-to-person call. It can be employed to advantage if it is reasonably certain that the person wanted will be at the other end of the line, or, in the event of his absence, if the business to be discussed with him can be transacted with anyone else there.

Examples of station-to-station method of giving a toll call:

"Bangor 3265-W—Anyone."

"23 Green Street, Manchester, N. H.—Anyone."

"Residence of Joseph Brown, Burlington, Vt.—Anyone."

"John Smith's telephone, Pittsfield, Mass.—Anyone."

"Robinson Machine Co., Springfield, Mass.—Anyone."

Quicker service will be obtained if you call the telephone number desired. If you do not know the number, the toll operator will get it for you.

The patrolmen were then required to stand up and themselves waive the reading of the complaint, after which all were seated. Attorney Feeney immediately opened his defence.

MAINE HOMES LOOTED OF JEWELS

Property Valued at $39,000 Is Secured by Burglars, Who Escape

Mrs. Webb and her daughter-in-law were almost prostrated when they learned of the theft from the Parsons home so soon after their arrival early Sunday morning. They entertained serious fears for their safety, for the burglars did not secure all the jewels the family possess.

The Breckenridge break is by far the more baffling of the two, for when the family awakened today they found the house had been burglarized, but were utterly unable to find any means by which the thieves had entered. Not a window had been jimmied nor had any of the doors been forced. Yet the jewels, consisting of pearl necklaces, diamond ornaments, rings and pins were gone.

Inquiry among the servants at the place developed that at about 3 o'clock the stablekeeper on the grounds heard the noise of a motor being turned over. Before he could pursue an investigation the machine vanished in a cloud of dust.

For almost 250 miles daring burglars in a small runabout trailed Mrs. W. Seward Webb and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Vanderbilt Webb, from Bar Harbor to Kennebunk for the purpose of purloining the valuable jewels the two New York society leaders wore or carried.

In the end they succeeded when in the dead of night they climbed a porch to the second floor of the Summer home of Llewellyn Parsons, forced a window and stole jewels valued at $14,000 or more.

As yet no real clew to the burglars has been found, though Deputy Sheriff Ernest L. Jones of this town is confident that the men who rode in the small car from Bar Harbor will be located. The thieves worked so skilfully that not a trace was left which might lead to their identity.

Efforts to find finger prints on the windows or on any of the articles which had been handled proved unavailing, and the impression exists that the men wore silken gloves in carrying out their burglary. Though they worked within 18 inches of Mrs. Webb and her daughter, neither of the women was awakened.

JEWELRY DEALERS WARNED.

Dealers in jewels the country over have been warned to be on the lookout for the valuable gems which the men carried away. One of the pieces was a necklace of pearls, made from either 81 or 83 of the gems. Another was a diamond ring with sapphire on either side of the diamond. These two pieces alone were worth $11,000.

Saturday morning the Webbs left their Summer home at Bar Harbor for a motor trip down to the Parsons home, where they were to be guests for a short time. It had been planned to drive leisurely and spend Saturday night in Portland. It was noted soon after they left Bar Harbor that a small runabout was dogging their trail, but nothing was thought of it at the time.

Arrangements having been completed for the journey on to Kennebunk, Mrs. Webb started and again the roadster dogged the larger car. The Webbs entered the Parsons home and retired almost at once, fatigued after their long ride. That was shortly before [illegible] o'clock.

That morning at 1:30 or 1:45 one of the Parsons chauffeurs, driving home from a dancing party, turned into the avenue leading to the Parsons estate to discover a small roadster with dimmed lights resting there. He pulled out quickly to avoid hitting it and then passed on.

He stored his car in the farm barn and thought nothing of the roadster until the following day when it was reported [illegible] Sheriff Jones [illegible] Bar Harbor.

SHOE STRIKERS CONSENT TO BE RESTRAINED

The [illegible] brought by the [illegible] Spalding Company, shoe manufacturers of Lowell, against John C. Macgillan and the other members of the Allied Shoe Workers Union came before Judge [illegible] in the motion session of the Superior Court today.

The complainant charges that the respondents have called a strike at the factory of the former because the company has refused to carry on a "closed shop" and insists on employing such persons as it sees fit in the conduct of its business. The company says it has complied with all requests of the union as to wages, hours of labor and all other matters except the employment of its help.

The Spalding Company asked for an injunction to restrain the respondents from interfering with its business.

The respondents entered into a stipulation that until the further order of the court they would refrain from interfering with the business of the complainant.

MANY GENERALS 'JOKES,' SAYS ANSELL

Former Judge-Advocate Answers Attacks on His Courts-Martial Criticisms

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Many of the generals of the American army are "jokes to everybody in the world except themselves," Samuel T. Ansell, former judge-advocate of the United States army, today told a sub-committee of the military affairs committee of the Senate.

Ansell was answering attacks made upon him because of his advocacy of a revision of the court-martial system.

Ansell declared that most officers [illegible] of legal matters" [illegible] their experience was not of [illegible] that would justify them in [illegible] upon court-martial.

General Pershing's experience prior to the present war was largely confined to "bushwhacking guerilla warfare" in the Philippines, Ansell said. He declared that many officers of high grade now had never commanded more than companies before the war and that their experience was such that it was "manifestly unfair" [illegible] them to pass upon the legal [illegible] which were involved in courts-martial.

MOB SEEKS TO PUNISH ACCUSED ONSET SLAYER

[illegible], Aug. 26.—An armed mob scoured the countryside early today in a search for Joseph Lomba, one of two [illegible] charged with killing eighteen-year-old [illegible] Cook of East Bridgewater Sunday. The self-constituted vigilantes had with them also a cat o' nine tails and [illegible] for tarring and feathering.

When the Onset authorities were kept in the dark as to the plans of the unsuccessful vigilantes, Lomba received word as to what was in the wind and vanished.

It was stated at his home today that he went away shortly after he was released on $1,000 bail, but that he would be on hand Friday when his preliminary trial will be held.

The town is intensely wrought up by the death of the East Bridgewater boy, who it is alleged was slain after he protested against insults to girl bathers. In the "tar and feather" party were about twenty-five young men, sons of well-to-do Summer residents. They made their search openly and apparently without fear of interruption.

Eye witnesses today corroborated earlier statements regarding the tragedy. The story is that when he rebuked Lomba for insulting the girls the man and his companion, Julio Lopes, rowed out to the float where Cook was standing and Lomba assaulted him.

Cook fell, his head striking a post, and was dead when friends reached him.

SECRET SERVICE HEADS HUNT FOR BOND THIEVES

Sale of Property May Result in Arrests, Federal Officials Believe

Despite the combined efforts of Secret Service agents, railroad detectives, Boston police and Pinkertons, no trail has yet been developed which will lead to the solving of the safe burglary and $100,000 bond theft at the South Station exclusively reported in yesterday's American. Frank Burke, chief of the Secret Service Bureau of the Treasury Department, is in active charge of the hunt.

Today George H. [illegible], general manager of the Pinkerton Detective Bureau for this district, sent out broadcast the numbers on the bonds thus far checked up. They are mainly of the $50 and $100 denominations and all of the Fourth Issue. Bankers, Liberty loan offices and banks are urged to be watchful for the bonds.

Following is the list thus far tabulated:

$100 value—[illegible] through [illegible]; $50 denominations—[illegible] through [illegible], the last two sets of numbers being for bonds valued at $100 each.

The bonds reported here total almost $56,000 in value, and as yet there remains almost as much more for the auditors to check up.

As none of the bonds is registered and in view of the ease with which they can be negotiated, the police are doubtful whether they can be recovered, especially as criminals of such a clever type are likely to take every precaution to protect themselves in disposing of them. But if bankers, brokers and other dealers in bonds throughout the country are on their guard and refuse to purchase bonds from unidentified persons, the police believe there is a fair chance of recovering them.

Hyde Park Protests 'L' Tax; Cars Don't Enter There

Hyde Park, which is not served by the Boston Elevated Railway, is much disturbed over the fact that it is to be assessed for part of the "L's" deficit. The Board of Trade and the Citizens' Association are urged to take action in opposition to the tax levy by Attorney John J. Hurley, who declares the tax should be abated, as not one of the company's cars enters the district.

BAY STATE MEN MAY QUIT CARS TOMORROW

spite the plea for delay made by International President W. D. Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes.

Other leaders of the Bay State carmen declared that the strike might materialize as early as tomorrow morning.

That their international officers may suspend the men in case of an unauthorized strike is indicated in President Mahon's letter to their leaders in which he calls attention to similar action in Pittsburgh.

Union headquarters in the Quincy House was the scene of intense activity during the day, with practically all the leaders with the exception of Mr. Murphy very uncommunicative.

James H. Vahey, counsel for the carmen, and International Vice-President Thomas F. Shine both declined to discuss the situation. Neither would they comment on the report that copies of President Mahon's letter, appealing for delay, had been posted up in the car barns for a few minutes, then torn off the walls.

Some of the minor leaders, however, declared that "President Mahon's counsel for caution had fallen flat, and would be ignored."

Counters and checkers were busy tabulating the strike vote all day at the various polling booths. At the barns the men were unwilling to discuss President Mahon's request that they postpone drastic action.

URGES SEIZURE OF 'BIG FIVE' MEAT CARS

Trade Board Recommends Government Operation to Break Up Monopoly

tor letter to a "Private car line report."

Linking the "Big Five" packers with "Monopolistic advantages," the Federal Trade Commission's letter stated that the "extensive ownership" of [illegible] refrigerator cars by the "Big Five" is a "principal factor in their control of the meat industry." These packers owned on December 31, 1917, [illegible] tank cars, which are adapted to the shipment of fresh beef and carcass meats, or over 90 per cent of the total number of this type of car, the commission's letter set forth.

Their ownership [illegible] of accessory facilities, such as icing stations and platforms located advantageously in [illegible] territory, strengthened their control over the industry, according to the commission. The Interstate Commerce Commission, however, has ordered this ownership transferred to the carriers.

PACKERS FOR REFERENDUM.

"The packers are willing to submit the merits of the Federal Trade Commission's recommendations to the common sense of the American public," said Thomas E. Wilson, head of Wilson & Co. and chairman of the Institute of American Meat Packers, in a commentary made public today simultaneously with the report of the Federal Trade Commission.

"After an investigation by men inexperienced in transportation questions, the trade commission presented a report diametrically opposed to that handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission, composed of men trained in railroad work," he continued. "Government operation of the railroads has not been such as to warrant the public looking with very great equanimity on the suggestion that its food be handled by the same or a similar agency."

FOCH IS COUNTED OUT OF RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Deschanel and American Wife May Succeed Poincare in Elysee Palace

By International News Service.

Paris, Aug. 26.—Contrary to rumors that have been persistently circulated in Paris ever since the armistice was signed, it is now possible to state authoritatively that Marshal Foch, the world's greatest soldier and France's most distinguished citizen, will not be a candidate for the presidency of France next year.

President Poincare's term of office, which began in 1913, will expire in February. His successor will be elected by the National Assembly (the Senate and Chamber of Deputies sitting jointly) at Versailles.

Marshal Foch as President of the Republic would be popular with the people, but would upset political [illegible]. The Marshal himself is averse to politics and gets his chief pleasure living quietly on his farm with his grandchildren.

Students of political conditions believe that M. Poincare's successor most likely will be Paul Deschanel, president of the Chamber of Deputies. M. Deschanel is married to an American girl, the former Miss [illegible], so if he goes to the Elysee Palace as is expected France will have an American "Presidentess" for the first time.

OTHER POSSIBILITIES.

Other presidential possibilities that have loomed up lately are M. Poincare for a second term, Premier Clemenceau and Antonin Dubost. M. Poincare has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election, although he will get back in political life in the Senate. M. Clemenceau as war premier is one thing, but M. Clemenceau at the Elysee Palace is another, and it is doubtful if he could obtain a majority at Versailles. Aside from the fact that he is a "strong man" of the type [illegible] by modern [illegible], he is too old, also. But the best reason for dismissing him from consideration is his own unwillingness to run. M. Dubost also is too old.

Marshal Foch now makes a daily tour of his farm, looking after the harvesting, and he spends a lot of time in his home garden.

He dresses in an ordinary lounge suit with puttees and his usual gear is an old [illegible] cap which Field Marshal Haig gave him.

FOLLOWS SIMPLE LIFE.

"I am here for the simple life," the Marshal tells his visitors. "I arise at 5.30 in the morning, take a walk around my grounds and then have my coffee and look over my mail. Afterwards I take my cap and stick and visit my farm. In the afternoon I look in on very old and dear friends of mine in this section or motor to the sea, which is only ten miles away. In the evening I again look over my mail.

"Ah, but this is the life after the worry and toil of the past four years. My happiest moments are those that I spend with my grandchildren—the sons and daughters of my son and son-in-law, both of whom were with me in 1914, but who, alas, were killed with many other fine young fellows."

The four children call the great soldier "Bon Papa."

"And after all," adds the Marshal, reflectively, "doesn't that go more to the heart than the grandiloquent 'Monsieur le Marechal' I hear so often?"

SERVICE CROSS IS GIVEN COL. MAJOR

A United States Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded to Colonel Duncan Major of the Yankee Division who during the war figured prominently in connection with the removal of Colonel Edward L. Logan as commander of the 101st Regiment of Infantry, according to word received at the Northeastern Department from the War Department at Washington.

Accompanying the decoration the War Department says: "Colonel Major has been awarded the cross for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service. As chief of staff of the 26th Division he proved to be a capable and energetic staff officer of marked executive ability. At all times he exhibited rare qualities of military leadership. He rendered invaluable services to the American Expeditionary Forces."

TO DISCUSS SPEEDING UP CRIMINAL TRIALS

Methods of speeding procedure will be the principal subject considered at the meeting of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology in Boston September 2 and 3. The meeting is to be held in connection with the annual convention of the American Bar Association. Particular attention will be given to the case of the defendant who enters a plea of insanity. Members of the institute feel that in many cases wealthy malefactors are committed to insane asylums when they should go to jail, while in other cases feeble-minded persons are allowed to spend a life of petty crime between the street and the house of correction, when they should be in a colony for the weak minded.

ELEVATED TO SURVEY SOUTH BOSTON TRAFFIC

A survey is to be made of South Boston traffic by the Elevated, Thursday. Cards will be furnished passengers by conductors as they board the cars in South Boston, and collected at Broadway and Andrew square stations, as well as on the cars as they enter the city.

Passengers will be requested to enter in a space provided the exact point on which they board cars in South Boston, and the point on the Elevated lines to which they intend to ride, and return the blank to the conductor.

$600,000 COST OF CONVENTION TO STATE

$410,172 Is Paid to Members of Constitutional Body Alone

Nearly $600,000 has been expended from the treasury of the commonwealth in the payment of bills incurred by the Constitutional Convention during its three years' sessions on Beacon Hill.

For the year 1917, the bills totalled $[illegible], in 1918 an aggregate of $[illegible] was expended, and the bills for this year's session amounted to $[illegible], making a grand total of $[illegible].

Naturally the compensation of members of the convention proved the largest single item of expense, amounting in the three years to $410,172.[illegible] Although there was much talk in this year's session that the members should not accept any compensation for their [illegible] days of service, still no member of the convention has as yet returned the $[illegible] check which was sent him for compensation.

The second largest item of expense was $[illegible] paid to members as reimbursement for their traveling expenses. Other expenses included: $9,957.27 paid to the commission which compiled information for the use of delegates, and $[illegible] for publication of this information; $[illegible] for expenses in connection with submitting the twenty-two amendments to the voters, and $11,[illegible] for printing ballots; $[illegible] for telephone service; $[illegible] for printing stationery, etc.; $[illegible] for expenses of the department of the sergeant-at-arms, and $11,[illegible] for other miscellaneous expenses.

PASTOR REFUSES TO WORK 8-HOUR DAY

Mt. Kisco, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The Rev. H. A. Prichard, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in this town, refuses to work eight hours a day, according to a suggestion made to the clergy by Bishop Tourel of Western Colorado. Afraid that the eight-hour system may be made law at the General Convention of that church next Fall he has tabulated his objection with the New York Churchman and says: "Have you considered the dread issues of such a movement in the Episcopal church? What if the movement spreads; will it become of our golf, our [illegible], social functions and a lot of other things which are not work?"

Newport, R. I., Aug. 26.—The Rev. C. E. Simos said prohibition won't be the issue in the fourth of his series of sermons on "Burning American Problems" at the United Congregational Church. People, he said, now realize the evil of the organized liquor traffic through its insidious control of local politics, and are determined to do away with it forever.

FEAR 'EVIL BIRD' LAYING EGGS THAT EXPLODE

Dominican Bandits Dig Up and Boil Human Bones, Then Drink Broth as Charm

Washington, Aug. 26.—"If the evil birds" that lay "explosive eggs" don't stop flying over Santo Domingo and Haiti the graves in every cemetery of both countries will be absolutely barren of bones of ancestors.

Ancestor bones is about the only thing that will protect the natives from the harm of the evil birds. As for the Haitian and Dominican bandits, however, nothing will protect them, for the evil birds lay eggs with such [illegible] that outlaw bands are greatly reduced as a consequence, all of which is contained in an official report to marine corps headquarters here from Captain Walter E. McCaughtry, 1st Division, Squadron D, Marine Aviation Force, Santo Domingo.

McCaughtry is in command of six airplanes, whose pilots have already demonstrated the ability of airplanes to scatter bandits. Another report, telling of the killing of six bandits by marine aviators, was received today. The natives, though, are thoroughly alarmed at the birdmen. They refuse to go near the machines, and as a result they do not believe men fly them. They call the planes "evil birds" and the bombs which they drop are "eggs." In several sections of the country, natives, gazing in fear at a passing airplane, have hurriedly fled to the nearest cemetery, dug up the bones of their ancestors, boiled them, and drank the broth as a charm against the evil birds.

Captain McCaughtry's report, giving first information of an encounter between the marines and bandits, which occurred several weeks ago, follows:

"Captain Simmons, commanding officer of the 44th Company, called the marine aviation headquarters by phone from [illegible], informing us that his company had engaged bandits in a thirty-minutes pitched battle in the vicinity of Guaybodulco. Immediately upon receipt of this information Lieutenant Noble and I took to the air. We located approximately thirty bandits, all on foot, marching toward the mountains. I immediately put the Marlin automatic in action and fired steadily until I reached an altitude of about 100 feet. In the dive I fired 250 rounds of ammunition. Lieutenant Noble fired three bursts of five rounds each from his Lewis machine gun directly into the scattering bandits."

Later this count was verified by personal investigation. Not long ago the Marines ran short of bombs in Santo Domingo, so accordingly they commandeered all old bottles and gas pipes, which were filled with black powder and dynamite and were used successfully.

HIT CARTRIDGE WITH HAMMER; BOY SHOT

Bullet Pierces Head of Youth in Blacksmith Shop

As the result of placing a regulation army cartridge on an anvil and hitting it with a hammer, [illegible] Dress, nine years old, at No. 77 East Dedham street, South End, is at the City Hospital with a bullet in his forehead, and his cousin, Harris Furman, eleven years old, of the same address, is suffering from contusions from the explosion of the cartridge.

Following a ride in a wagon young Dress picked up the cartridge in front of the entrance of the junk shop owned by Furman's father at No. 146 Castle street, South End. He gave it to Furman, who placed it on an anvil and hit it twice with a hammer.

The cartridge exploded, the slug piercing Dress' head between the eyes and the shell grazed his left side under his shoulder, causing a wound an inch long.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad for Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

Embarrassing Hairs Can Be Quickly Removed

(Beauty Culture)

Hairs can be easily banished from the skin by this quick, painless method: Mix into a stiff paste some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. Excepting in very stubborn growths, one application is sufficient. To avoid disappointment, buy the delatone in an original package.—Advertisement.

Oppose Giving March Permanent Rank of General

Washington, Aug. 26.—The permanent rank of general will be conferred on General Pershing, and of admirals on Admirals Benson and Sims in legislation to be passed by the House within a few days.

Permanent rank also for General March, chief of staff, will be considered at the same time, but several members of the House military affairs committee have announced their opposition to according General March this honor.

"Some of us do not think that General March's work, well done though it might have been, entitles him to take rank with Sherman, Sheridan, Grant or Pershing," said Representative Sanford, a member of the committee.

PROSECUTION OF RENT GOUGERS IS SOUGHT

By Universal Service.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The Department of Justice will be authorized to [illegible] in all parts of the country in its campaign to reduce the high cost of living if Congress passes a bill to be introduced in the House by Representative Ben Johnson, Democrat, of Kentucky.

Johnson would place rents [illegible] necessaries of life which are protected from profiteering under the House bill amending the food control act by a penalty of [illegible] fine, imprisonment [illegible] two years, or both.

"I am [illegible] only Congress could refuse to protect shelter as well as food and clothing against profiteers," Johnson said. "Since such [illegible] passed the House but the Senate [illegible] vote [illegible] Huddleston [illegible] the House [illegible] if separately introduced."

[illegible] Johnson bill will provide that in the case of furnished rooms no more than 15 per cent. of the cost of the furniture may be added to the rent price of the rooms furnished.

The Kentucky member already has an "anti-rent hog" bill for the District of Columbia pending. He declares that Washington landlords have forced rents sky high by forcing tenants to rent furnished rooms. The entire cost of the furnishings, he asserts, is commonly made back every month in increased rents, and the same situation applies to other cities.

SAYS SOFT COAL 'TRUST' WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE

J. D. A. Morrow Tells Senators Competition Is Too Keen to Permit Combination

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 26.—A combination among bituminous coal operators to maintain or fix prices does not exist and would be impossible if attempted, J. D. A. Morrow, vice-president of the National Coal Association, today told the Senate subcommittee, conducting an inquiry into the coal situation. Prices at the mine have "declined under the competition which prevails" and are lower than they were a year ago, Morrow added.

"There are about 7000 separate commercial producers operating approximately 7,000 mines, from which bituminous coal is regularly shipped," Morrow said.

"In addition there are some [illegible] operators, with about [illegible] mines, who begin producing and selling coal whenever the price goes up a little and offers a profit to them. Thus in 1917 coal production was reported to the United States government [illegible] from 10,000 mines. Moreover, there are hundreds of thousands of acres of coal land along railroads on which new mines can be readily and quickly opened up any time [illegible].

MANY SOURCES OF SUPPLY.

"Such a condition obviously does not lend itself to restrictive combinations among producers. In addition the operators of each mining field are subject to competition from the producers in other fields as most buyers have many different sources of supply available," Morrow [illegible].

Morrow stated that bituminous coal prices have declined since the armistice and in general are lower than the prices fixed by the United States Fuel Administration. He pointed out to the committee that until February 1 last the price of bituminous coal was controlled by the maximum price fixed by the fuel administration in the various producing districts.

"Meantime," Mr. Morrow said, "the cost of production [illegible] is higher than it was a year ago due to the [illegible] were operating [illegible] in many cases are now operating only four days per week and in some cases only three days a week. The overhead expense of maintaining mines goes on just the same whether coal is produced or not."

REFUTES HINES' CHARGES.

Referring to the statement of Representative Huddleston of Alabama, Director-General Hines of the Railroad Administration and others to the effect that bituminous coal prices at the mines are unduly high, Mr. Morrow said:

"I wish to deny publicly and unequivocally these allegations that bituminous coal prices are being maintained in some improper manner and are unduly high. I am convinced that these statements proceed simply from a lack of understanding of the facts."

25-PASSENGER "ZEP" STARTS AIR TRIPS

Germany Opens New Commercial Line Between Berlin and the Swiss Border

By Universal Service.

[illegible]

Berlin, Aug. 26.—With the peace treaty not yet ratified by the United States and the Allies except Britain, Germany has turned its attention from problems of military domination of the air to the development of commercial aerial traffic. It is [illegible] to inaugurate regular airship passenger service.

A new commercial passenger-carrying Zeppelin, called "Bodensee," completed since the signing of the armistice, has arrived here with twenty-five passengers from Friedrichshafen on the Swiss border. It covered the distance in six hours, roughly one-third of the time required by trains.

The big Zeppelin landed quickly, easily and smoothly, in the teeth of a [illegible] gale. American army officers who watched the landing were impressed with the airship's control and maneuvering despite the [illegible]. The trip was taken to demonstrate the practicability of regular aerial passenger traffic.

It was the maiden voyage of the "Bodensee," which, though huge in size, is much smaller than the military craft used during the war. The trip marks the beginning of regular traffic between Berlin and the Swiss border. As soon as possible it is expected to be extended to Copenhagen and Stockholm.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF IN FIT OF JEALOUSY

Westerly, R. I., Couple Found Shot to Death in Bed by Guest

Westerly, R. I., Aug. 26.—Jealousy is said by the police to have been the motive which led Thomas Davis, thirty-three, to kill his wife, a year his junior, and then take his own life at their home at No. 4 Prospect street. A revolver was found in Davis' hand when Chester Baker, a visitor at the Davis home, entered their chamber to learn the reason for their failure to appear at breakfast and discovered the couple dead in bed. A note addressed to Baker asked that the bodies be buried in the same grave.

Both bodies were fully clothed and from the position of the woman's body and the disarray of the bed clothing the police believe that she struggled when she realized her husband's intention to take her life. They are survived by four children whose ages run from six to fourteen years.

Davis was a barber by trade but at the time of his death he was a conductor on the Shore Line between Westerly and New London. His father, John C. Davis, lives at Ashaway, R. I.

How Success In Life May Depend On Amount Of Iron In Your Blood

mic power and energy make them virtually masters [illegible] in their blood are the ones who go through life with a smile, self-reliant and fearless, and their dynamic power and energy make them virtually masters of their own destinies," says Dr. John J. Van Horne, formerly Medical Inspector and Clinical Physician on the Board of Health of New York City, in commenting on the relation of strong nerves and physical endurance to the attainment of success and power.

"Strength and vitality of body and mind are derived from the blood, and the blood in turn derives it from the food we eat and the oxygen [illegible] in the air we breathe. But unless the blood is rich in iron to increase its oxygen [illegible] power it cannot develop living tissue, muscle and brain or keep active the vital forces. [illegible]

[illegible]

Nuxated Iron has been used and highly endorsed by widely known men and women [illegible]. When people like these who [illegible] have [illegible] health, strength and endurance [illegible].

If you are not strong or well [illegible] Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

[illegible] is dispensed by all good druggists.

Paderewski, Premier of Poland and world-famed musical genius, had recourse to Nuxated Iron to help rebuild his wasted forces when he was weakened and run-down by overwork.

Mrs. James Longstreet, widow of the famous Civil War General, and one of America's foremost editorial writers, says Nuxated Iron brought her back to health and strength when every other tonic had failed her.

Miss Mabel McKinley, Neice of the late President of the United States, says," As a strength, health and blood builder I am convinced Nuxated Iron has no equal."

United States Commissioner General of Immigration, Hon. Anthony Caminetti, uses Nuxated Iron to create red blood, strength and endurance, and commends it to others.

Former United States Senator Towne, "The Silver-tongued Orator of Minnesota," takes Nuxated Iron and recommends it to all who feel the need of renewed energy.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of ugly hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus is the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1918, says: "* * * that the amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.—Advertisement.

STIRRING FILM IS SEEN AT MAJESTIC

"The Right to Happiness," which opened last evening before a well filled house at the Majestic Theatre, is one of the most human film plays of the season. It starred Dorothy Phillips in a remarkably well played dual role.

The production is based upon the most modern of questions—industrial unrest—and the oldest of questions—love. The story opens in Russia, where Andrew Hardcastle, an American of wealth, is established for his firm back in America.

Unrest seethes in Russia with the result that the Hardcastle home is set afire and ransacked by the disorderly mobs. Of his two children, twins, Dorothea and Vivian, both parts played by Miss Phillips, Dorothea is carried away by Russian peasants and Vivian is discovered in the fire-swept home by her father.

Dorothea is brought up to the red-flag idea of patriotism, while Vivian lounges in the lap of luxury. Vivian is hailed amongst New York society as the reigning debutante. Dorothea eventually reaches America to preach the doctrine of unrest.

Dorothea's father, Mr. Hardcastle, is an unbeliever in giving the workmen of his factory a "square deal." Mr. Forrester, who is his partner, is strong for the employes and the two have a wordy quarrel and separate their interests. The Forrester factory represents fair conditions to labor, the Hardcastle, the unfair.

The fact that ex-service men from overseas in uniform are represented on the screen as being turned down for a job in the Hardcastle factory absorbs the audience. These men get positions at the Forrester plant.

The play ends dramatically with the mob of strikers from the Hardcastle concern besieging his home. Dorothea, who was leading the strikers, shields Vivian from a shot fired by one of the crowd and is fatally shot. She is carried into the Hardcastle home and is recognized by her father as his long lost daughter. In her dying breath she pleads for better conditions. They were granted.

CRAIG PLAYERS AT ARLINGTON THEATRE

The Craig Players have returned to Boston. After a two years' absence, Mr. and Mrs. John Craig (Mary Young) have resumed the direction of the Castle Square Theatre, now known as the Arlington, and will produce there a series of new plays and bring back to its stage a number of notable revivals, including a series of Shakespearian productions.

Their first play is a new drama entitled "Prisoner of the World," and it will be given its first performance on any stage at the Arlington Theatre Friday evening. Regular matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday, and there will be a special holiday matinee next Monday.

Plays That Remain

WILBUR THEATRE—"Oh, My Dear," the merry Princess Theatre extravaganza, continues to attract large audiences to the Wilbur Theatre.

TREMONT THEATRE—Henry W. Savage's musical comedy, "See-Saw," began the fifth week of its engagement at the Tremont Theatre last evening, still enjoying undiminished prosperity. Because of the worth and goodness of the attraction the continued crowded houses that attend are but deserved tribute and as a matter of course.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—Florence Moore, the funniest girl in the world, began the second week of her hilarious visit to Boston in her side-splitting farce, "Breakfast in Bed," at the Plymouth Theatre last night.

SHUBERT THEATRE—In "Somebody's Sweetheart," which opened with acclaim at the Shubert Theatre on Saturday night, Arthur Hammerstein has given to the stage a musical contribution that commends itself for its effervescent humor, founded on a well-developed plot, and a repertoire of irresistible musical numbers which already have found their way around town.

PARK SQUARE THEATRE—At Selwyn's Park Square Theatre last night another enthusiastic and capacity audience stamped its approval of "Buddies," the new comedy written by George V. Hobart, with music by Melville Gideon and B. C. Hilliam. The piece is in its third week of tremendous popularity and seems destined to remain here for some time to come.

TREMONT TEMPLE—Patrons visiting Tremont Temple to see Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Legs" more than once discover new beauties and new delights in this charming production at every visit.

MASTERSINGERS PROVE BIG HIT AT KEITH'S

The ninth annual appearance of the Mastersingers at Keith's Theatre was greeted with thunderous applause as the curtain dropped upon the last number of their latest little singing sketch, "On the Links," consisting of ballads and songs, artistically rendered by this well-known assembly of male singers.

Another musical feature was the sketch, "Peggy O'Brien," featuring Hermine Shone, with the assistance of Jack Denny and company. The sketch is the product of Emmet DeVoy, a clever writer.

Dorothy Shoemaker and Jack Roseleigh offered their interpretation of Carrington Phelps' sketch, "Mr. James of London." They, too, made a hit.

Bert Levy, popular entertainer, put it over with his delightful novelty act. Joseph L. Browning, comedian and author, appeared in "A Timely Sermon."

Other acts were Rekoma, Burke and Vaida Company, Sylvester and Vance, and Kerr and Weston. All these acts were exceptionally well given.

The Weekly News reel, with "Topics of the Day," were shown before the performance. The bill in general is highly entertaining.

"HITCHY KOO---1919" OPENS COLONIAL

By FRED J. McISAAC,
Dramatic Editor.

"Hitchy-Koo—1919" is so much better than its predecessors of last year and the year before, that it really ought not bear the same name. It is a great entertainment which Raymond Hitchcock has brought to the Colonial Theatre, one of the most pretentious musical extravaganzas ever seen in that house.

Somebody ought to page Flo Ziegfeld and tip him off that this Hitchcock person is on his trail, and not very far behind.

This year's Hitchy-Koo is modeled on the Follies. Hitchy even went out and hired Urban, whom Ziegfeld thought was his private scene painter, to turn out some of the many big scenes in his entertainment.

And, my goodness, as Hitchy says, what a flock of pretty girls he has assembled. They are young and eager, not aristocratic and condescending like the Folly Girls. You have a feeling that these girls haven't got any Rolls Royces as yet, but they are immensely all right.

Hitchcock still strolls down the aisle in that absurd high hat of his, exchanges any persiflage with the critics and other acquaintances in the audience. This time he was very confidential in manner, and informed the audience that the purpose of the show was purely educational.

It was. It specialized in anatomy. I never have seen so much of so many girls in my life. Yes, once I saw a girl at Nantasket in a bathing suit that was almost as revealing as some of Hitchy's darlings. It was just before she got arrested.

Not that the display was vulgar; it was thoroughly artistic and there were no knock knees, moles or other blemishes on the bare limbs "presented to view," as the poet of "The Old Oaken Bucket" was wont to say.

Speaking of "The Old Oaken Bucket," the really big hit of the show is a sweet little song called "An Old Fashioned Garden," done by a group in the costumes of the fifties. It is a plaintive and charming melody which made an instant appeal. Everybody in the show had a turn at it, but the climax came when the orchestra conductor turned and sang it in a sweet tenor. His name is Cassius M. Freeborn.

Cole Porter, who composed the music, sat in a stage box and was kidded by Hitchy when he wasn't joshing a gentleman named Crosby. Mr. Porter turned out a score that is away above the average. Hitchy claimed that he got him from the A. E. F., in which he was a lieutenant or something.

George V. Hobart wrote the book, and while it is as scatterbrain as this sort of entertainment is accustomed to be, the lines and situations were more often funny.

The big scene is a burlesque on Captain John Smith and Pocahontas. The setting is remarkably beautiful and so are the costumes. An Indian girl named the Princess White Wings did a dance in which she wore even less clothes than Florence Denishawn, which is quite a statement to make. It was a beautiful dance, by the way. Miss Denishawn came right back in the second act with a Hindoo Temple dance, which was both daring and artistic. An Indian person named Os Ko Mon performed a sensational dance in this scene.

Among the girls who distinguished themselves by singing, dancing and looking well were Lillian Kemble Cooper, Elenor Sinclair, Ruth Mitchell and Georgia Hall. Sylvia Clark's burlesque of an R. Denishawn dance was a big success. Hitchy supplied almost all the fun, but he had some help from Charles Howard and Joseph Cook.

A couple of refined murderers named Duffy and Sweeney tried to slay each other to raise a smile late in the show, but, unfortunately didn't succeed.

The opening scene should not be missed. It's something new and I couldn't describe it in less than a thousand words.

Other Theatres

ORPHEUM THEATRE—Yesterday's program at the Orpheum Theatre was filled with fun and singing. Francis and Hackett furnished breezy bits from musical comedies. Worth and Hart offered a novel entertainment. The Royal Four displayed some good voices in musical numbers of a rural nature. Langdon and Smith were seen in a fun-provoking act. Mack and Mack gave the latest song hits, and the three Peru sisters performed daring feats in the air. Hale Hamilton was shown in the feature photoplay entitled, "The Four Flusher."

MODERN AND BEACON THEATRES—Sessue Hayakawa in "The Gray Horizon" at the Modern and Beacon theatres this week presents a love romance of California and Japan built upon unusual lines. It abounds in novel and tense situations, one of which shows a young Japanese artist painting at the bidding of the American woman he loves the portrait of her husband, whom he has killed because the husband in question had betrayed the artist's sister. Next week, when these two well-known playhouses go under new policies, with different scale of prices, Elsie Ferguson will be seen in the new Paramount Artcraft special, "The Witness for the Defense." Wallace Reid will be seen in another Paramount Artcraft offering, "The Valley of the Giants," and a new Mack Sennett comedy will be shown.

PARK THEATRE—"The Miracle Man," the screen version of George Cohan's highly successful comedy of the same name, will open its engagement at the Park Theatre next Monday, as the first production in that well-known theatre under its new management and new policies.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—The picturization of Rex Beach's widely read novel, "The Crimson Gardenia," which was shown at the Columbia Theatre yesterday afternoon and evening, proved to be all that has been said about it and just a little bit more. Evelyn Nesbitt in "My Little Sister," and Ray Allison, in "Nearly Married," will be shown today. For tomorrow and Thursday, Elsie Ferguson in "The Avalanche," and Charles Ray in "Hay Foot, Straw Foot," in which he attained such a phenomenal success, will be shown.

GLOBE THEATRE—Hale Hamilton, in his latest photoplay, "The Four Flusher," was shown at the Globe Theatre yesterday afternoon and evening, and held great interest for the audience. Earle Metcalfe was also featured in an unusual picture, entitled "The Rattler," and Mrs. Sydney Drew was shown in her latest comedy.

BOSTON THEATRE—"The Spitfire of Seville," the leading film at the Boston Theatre this week, opened to a capacity house yesterday. With Hedda Nova, the Russian actress, as the star, the picture proved to be one of the best shown in Boston. It is an interesting story about the mountains of Spain.

BALDWIN'S CASINO—Peter S. Clark's well-known "Oh! Girl" organization, in a brand new offering by Ted Burns, which has very happily been christened "a merry-go-round the earth in fun laughing laps," is the current attraction at Waldron's Casino. In comedy, beauty, tunefulness and all other essentials of the successful musical show this production will be found about faultless. It deserves special praise as a scenic production, for the scenic artistry is of a high quality and various atmospheres are represented.

CODMAN SQUARE THEATRE—To the keen enjoyment of the many patrons which filled the house to overflowing at both afternoon and evening performances yesterday, the newly decorated and furnished Codman Square Theatre was reopened. The top line feature photoplay was Mabel Normand in "Upstairs." The production is replete with humorous and exciting situations, with this exquisite comedienne at her best. There was also shown a weekly pictorial; an Outing Chester, giving historical views of the beauties of Europe and America; a photoplay supplement and an amusing two-reel comedy.

MALDEN AUDITORIUM—An enthusiastic reception was accorded each and every member of the Temple Stock Company yesterday afternoon and evening at the Malden Auditorium when this group of players inaugurated the eighth dramatic season of its successful association with this popular playhouse. The initial attraction which will be continued this week was the revival of "Jerry," the sparkling American comedy which served as a successful vehicle for the popular Billie Burke several seasons ago. Adelyn Bushnell portrayed with infinite charm an unusual characterization the leading role—that created by Miss Burke. Miss Bushnell was the recipient of many floral offerings. Dwight Meade assayed the important male role and performed in a creditable manner.

PEMBERTON INN—For those in search of exclusive enjoyment, Pemberton Inn, at Pemberton, continues a regular rendezvous. No other dining place in this section can compete with this favorite resort in variety and excellence of entertainments.

The Biggest Furniture Sale in Our History Ends Friday

4 DAYS MORE

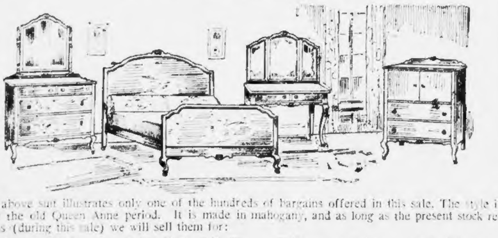
In which you may make savings of from 10 per cent. to 40 per cent. on prices when this sale ends.

Why has this been the biggest August Furniture Sale in volume of sales we have ever held? The answer follows:

When wholesale prices were far less than they are today, we bought very extensively, anticipating this sale. We did not trust to promises of future delivery, but we actually got the goods into our own capacious warehouses.

In the face of a constantly rising market, we are able to sell today far under the current prices. Until the end of the sale we shall continue to offer Furniture, Beds and Bedding at these big savings. When this sale ends, in many instances we shall not be abe to replace lots at anything like these prices. Many we cannot replace at all.

One Example:



The above suit illustrates only one of the hundreds of bargains offered in this sale. The style is after the old Queen Anne period. It is made in mahogany, and as long as the present stock remains (during this sale) we will sell them for:

Bureau $52.50 Toilet Table $47.50 Chifferobe $52.50 Bed $52.50

Or complete for the 4 pieces $195.00

We will hold the furniture for 60 days without additional charge.

DECISION GOES TO WILSON

Ahearn Was Fouled Twice But Referee Gardner Ignored His Protest

By JACK CONWAY

Jake (Young) Ahearn was fouled twice by Johnny Wilson in their bout at the Fenway A. A., but yet Referee Jimmy Gardner declared the latter the winner on a knockout in the sixth round.

A Dr. Nolan and Dr. Downer, a naval surgeon of the Charlestown Navy Yard, both of whom examined Ahearn after he was carried to his corner groaning, declared foul blows had been delivered.

When Gardner was told of the verdict of the doctors, he merely said: "I have already given my decision."

When Wilson struck his first low blow in the fifth round, those at the ringside could plainly hear Ahearn's protector [illegible]. The foul blow in the sixth round was also clear cut.

It was Ahearn's fight by a decided margin up to the time Wilson landed the first low blow. His skill and speed enabled him to outpoint his rugged opponent.

The men started boxing at a fast clip in the opening session. At infighting Ahearn showed he was a master boxer. He kept inside of Wilson all the time and ripped up sharp blows to the body and head. It was Ahearn's round.

In the second session Ahearn gave a wonderful exhibition of clever boxing and clean, hard hitting. He rocked Wilson with smashing left and right hand blows and had the Charlestown man reeling around the ring. It was Ahearn's round by the proverbial mile.

Once more in the third session Ahearn's skill and speed enabled him to outpoint his opponent.

Wilson showed at his best in the fourth frame. His aggressive style of milling enabled him to get to close quarters, where he scored with some stiff body punches. It was Wilson's round.

Wilson went out to follow up his advantage in the fifth frame. He was playing for Ahearn's body. In one of the exchanges of blows Wilson let drive with his left. The punch was low by three to four inches. There was a thud as the force of the punch dented in Ahearn's protector.

The South Boston man doubled up and fell to the canvas. He claimed foul as did Joe McCarthy, his manager. Gardner stood as if dazed. After about eight seconds he stepped over and grabbed Ahearn's belt. He then began to count.

Still Ahearn claimed foul.

[illegible] McCarthy cried when he saw Gardner intended to [illegible] ignore the fact Ahearn has been fouled. Ahearn managed to get up and by every gameness [illegible] drive with left and right hand blows and held Wilson at bay.

The minute's rest between the rounds helped to revive Ahearn. He started [illegible] in the sixth session. Once more Wilson started driving punches at the body. He then [illegible] foul punch which was also delivered with the left hand. Ahearn fell to the mat and was unable to get up. He claimed foul as did Joe McCarthy.

Without even examining Ahearn, without getting the expert advice of a doctor, Gardner [illegible] declared Wilson the winner on a knockout.

If Gardner had not acted so hastily, or if he had accepted the advice of a doctor, which was warranted under the circumstances, he would be able to justify his stand. As it is it looks as though the [illegible] man has refereed his last fight in Boston. He had his chance to prove his worth as a ring official and failed.

The record books will credit Wilson with a victory, but he's not entitled to it. It was Ahearn's bout on a foul in the fifth round.

Billy Duffy of [illegible] was opposed by Billy Gustin of South Boston in eight rounds, while Young Quill of Brockton and Sam Bell of this city boxed eight frames to a draw.

Young Kirby, Y. D. champion, was in Wilson's corner and was given a great ovation when introduced. Paul Doyle immediately challenged him. Tony Palazzo's champion is the logical opponent for Kirby. Doyle is a fast boxer and can punch. He's also about as heavy as Kirby. A Kirby-Doyle bout is the biggest pugilistic plum for any of the Boston clubs.

BOXING NOTES

Paul Doyle and Barney Adair of New York will swap punches in the feature tussle of twelve rounds at the Commercial Club Friday night. Willie Roberts and Frank Tills will clash in the semi-final frolic of eight rounds. Barney O'Brien and Young Crouse will be the members in a six-round whirl, while Young Donahue and Young Dempsey will go over the jumps in another six-round affair.

Frankie (Young) Britt, New England lightweight champion, and Ralph Brady of Syracuse are expected to show before a capacity house at the Marieville A. C. of Providence tomorrow night. Brady recently proved his punching ability when he went in as a substitute and stopped Tommy Tuohey at Paterson, N. J. He also hopped a train for Providence and defeated Billy DeFoe. Britt recently won a close decision over Brady at the Fenway Club and expects to repeat his triumph tomorrow night.

How to Play Baseball

This is the eighty-first of a series of 100 articles by Hugh S. Fullerton, celebrated baseball expert, on "How to Play Baseball." In this lesson Mr. Fullerton tells how to relay a ball. These articles will be a feature of the American's sport pages each day. Don't miss them.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

Getting the ball back into the infield quickly after a long hit is one of the prime essentials of team work. It is the mark of a finished and smoothly running team when a batter is held at third base on a hit which by distance and position naturally appears to be a home run. To accomplish this it is necessary that every man understand exactly what he is to do and to go at top speed to the position from which he can speed the play.

RUTH'S BIG BAT AGAIN TRIMS TIGERS

The Red Sox are now happily through the last of the three profitless Western trips and are speeding homewards to change in combat fire with Connie Mack's Athletics on Fenway Park, tomorrow.

Babe Ruth's big bat was the deciding factor in the getaway game in Detroit, the batterer smashing out a circuit clout in the sixth inning after Vitt and Roth had scored, following their hits and wild throws by [illegible] and Young. The Babe landed squarely on the trademark and sent the ball soaring into the [illegible] section in centre field. It was Ruth's [illegible] third circuit smash and its importance was enhanced [illegible] furnished the one-run margin by which the game was eventually won.

At that the Red Sox were somewhat fortunate in annexing the victory. Cobb's well-meant swat in the ninth would have surely been a home run had not the ball bounded back from the centre field fence directly into Ruth's hands. [illegible] the Boston centre fielder's throw in just nipped the speedy Tyrus at the plate and prevented the knotting of the count, if not, indeed, defeat, as the Tigers were in the middle of a promising batting rally at the time.

Besides their big inning, the sixth, in which they garnered three runs, the Red Sox scored twice. In the eighth McInnis tripled to left and scored on Walters' single. In the ninth Russell walked. A single put him on third. He tallied when Haig got a [illegible] hit to left. It was a fly that fell short just outside of Veach's reach.

Detroit made a brave bid for the game in the last chapter. In this inning Dyer, batting for Cunningham, singled to centre. Flagstead ran for him, advanced on Bush's out and scored when Young singled. Then came Cobb's fine smash which scored Young but left Ty one stride from the plate when the ball got there. It was as thrilling a finish as was that of Sunday when the Sox won out after a [illegible] rally by the Tigers in the last inning.

In his anxiety to win Jennings used up fifteen players, but Barrow stood pat on his original cast and won.

PERSHING FIELD GETS BIG A.A.U. TITLE EVENT

New York, Aug. 26.—Frederick W. Rubien, chairman of the National Championship Committee, has announced that the Amateur Athletic Union National all-around championship would be held at the new Pershing Athletic Field, Jersey City, on Saturday afternoon, September 20.

This decision was reached at a conference between Chairman Rubien and A. Harry Moore, commissioner of public parks and property of Jersey City, yesterday afternoon.

Athletes and officials alike were so well pleased over the new track and field [illegible] that no time was lost in making a request before Commissioner Moore for the use of the field for the all-around championship on September 20.

This is the blue ribbon event in American athletics and will attract entries from all sections of the United States. The events which make up the all-around competition are:

100-yard dash, 16-pound shot, high jump, 880-yard walk, [illegible] hammer, pole vault, 120-yard hurdles, 56-pound weight, broad jump and one-mile run.

Among the prominent all-around athletes who are expected to compete at this event are: Avery Brundage, Chicago A. In addition to the all-around championship, Chairman Rubien and Commissioner Moore have decided to hold three special limited handicap races in order to give some of the local and possibly some of the out-of-town stars, who may remain over from the national championships the week previous in Philadelphia, an opportunity to make fast time on the new track.

The events which will be staged are one-half-mile run, three-mile run and 220-yard dash.

SPECIAL MATCH BIKE RACE AT REVERE OVAL

Madonna and Carman to Meet in Challenge Event Tomorrow

Carman and Madonna will have it out again at the Revere cycle track tomorrow night when they meet in a special match behind the motors.

Carman, who holds the American championship, gave the Italian title-holder a beating in the race following [illegible] when they met last week, but Madonna came right back in the Golden Wheel race and scored top honors with Carman a poor third.

The defeats have been responsible for challenges and counter-challenges by both riders and the race tomorrow night is the outcome. The odds seem to favor Madonna, as he is [illegible], although Carman is confident that he can turn the trick.

The regular card of amateur and professional events will make up the balance of the program.

JOE COONEY, NEW GIANT, SON OF OLD-TIME STAR

By SAM CRANE

New York, Aug. 26. Joe Cooney, the young shortstop the Giants have just secured from Providence, brings to the writer memories of a youth by the same name who flashed brilliantly on the baseball field in 1890. This youth and Herman Long, also a shortstop, were the sensational players of that year in the National League.

They and other youngsters saved the National League [illegible]

Now this young Cooney, that the Giants have just signed up, is a son of old Joe Cooney, who so largely helped to save the day for the National League and to prolong its life to the present day.

The ground covering ability of Cooney and Long was a revelation to the fans of that time. [illegible]

It was [illegible] that was the inspiration for the [illegible] timore Orioles, only a very few years afterward with McGraw, Keeler, Jennings, Kelly, [illegible]

The Giants (I was with them) counted most confidently on a four-game clean-up with the cocky Orioles, but were defeated four [illegible] Well, we fellows couldn't [illegible] stand it. We were dumfounded.

INTRODUCED NEW PLAYS.

It was simply because the younger players of the Cooney-Long type [illegible] had been thinking up new plays, the run-getting stuff, made possible by team play, while the veterans were still going along in their same old style.

The game was revolutionized by the admission to the sport of the young players Joe Cooney, Herman Long, Charley "Kid" Nichols, Jess Burkett and others like them were quick to perceive their opportunity.

I only hope that the young Joe Cooney, now [illegible], is a chip of the old block. If he is he will surely do [illegible]

NAP RUCKER, SPONSOR FOR DODGER PITCHER

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 26.—Zach Taylor, the young and promising backstop of the Charlotte Club of the South Atlantic League has been sold to the Brooklyn National League [illegible]. This is Taylor's first year in professional baseball.

Taylor was recommended to the Brooklyn team by Nap Rucker, the once famous pitcher of the Dodgers. Rucker watched Taylor in several games recently and was so impressed with the youngster's work that he immediately got into communication with Ebbets. Taylor is a well developed youngster and Rucker thinks it is a sure bet that he makes good in the big show. He will report next spring.

Griff's Clowns

LOOKS as if Griff had stopped trying to clown himself into a World Series. In the late Germany Schaefer, Nick Altrock and Carl Sawyer, Clark had the greatest dynasty of clowns outside of Barnum's canvas-coated opera houses.

POOR old Schaef used to attract big crowds to the works by his famous shadow battle which [illegible] up by [illegible] smearing himself on the jaw, flattening himself out like a kippered flounder and counting himself out while unconscious. His other big stunt was a tight rope walk in which he made Blondin look like a blank. In addition he performed in the two o'clock infield, juggled the ball like a team of Swiss magicians and caught pop flies in his hip pocket.

DUTCH had the works to himself until one day at the training camp in Charlottesville. The Nationals used the University of Virginia field. That day there was an initiation of the Tappa Keggs, Sniffle Uppa Drinks or some other student fraternity. There was a hay scoffing mule used in the initiations painted all the colors of the rainbow and cerise. Altrock swiped this scoop eared goat, got in the saddle like a lefthander and steered the bird on the field by the tail. He umped the game from the mezzanine deck of the mule and the folks down Virginia way are still wearing out their suspenders from laughing at him.

THAT didn't threaten Dutch's clownship, but it made him take Nick into his company, and the two knocked the league silly for some seasons. Nick's best stunts were juggling the ball and an imitation of Napoleon with the cramps. Mimicking the umps was another stock stunt of the partners that never failed to get a laugh from everybody except the ump.

THE Germany-Nick duet was the topliner on the American wheel until Griff signed up a new shortstop named Sawyer. This bird was as quiet as a mouse eating soft cheese, until one day Griff detailed him to coach at third. Tommy Connolly was umpering. Along about the seventh inning the crowd heard a donkey warbling and piped Sawyer hoofing up and down with paper ears and using his cap for a tail. The imitation would have fooled a lifelong Democrat, and it knocked Connolly lose from his chest protector. This is the only time that Connolly was known to laugh.

IN addition Sawyer was an acrobat and could toss back and [illegible] like a flapjack in the hands of an army cook. Sawyer's [illegible] was an imitation of a couple of loose whales sampling hair tonic. He'd dive to the carpet, paddle around, and then suddenly spout a stream of water about thirty feet high. Maybe it wasn't exactly thirty feet, but it was thirty small feet. Just the same as the milk profiteer giving you a small quart. Sawyer held up many a game while the ump called time to enable the fans to sew their vest buttons back on again.

WHEN Griff had these clowns his team was finishing up among 'em. Ban Johnson threatened to fire the cut-ups many a time, as he claimed they lowered the dignity of baseball. A privilege which Ban reserves for himself.

The Crocodile's Agility

THE moment that a young crocodile breaks its shell it is to all intents and purposes as active as it is at any time during its life. It will make straight for the water, even if it be out of sight and a good distance off, and it will pursue its prey with eagerness and agility during the first week of its free existence.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle sunburn and tan lotion and complexion beautifier, at very very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage the sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Advertisement.

Pile Sufferers! Clever Ohio Chemist Says This Great Prescription Taken Internally Has Never Failed

Even chronic cases of 20 to 30 years' standing, with profuse bleeding, have been completely relieved in from three to ten days

... discovery ... of recent years in the ... of medicine ... is the discovery that piles can be successfully treated and relieved at home by a wonderful prescription known to druggists as Miro Pile Remedy.

It has been proved that so-called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best only give temporary relief. This is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise act on the source of the trouble.

This prescription although taken internally is not digested in the stomach, but is rapidly passed on unchanged to the intestines in a short time, reaching the exact place where by its soothing, healing action, it first allays all inflammation and ...

... wonderful ...

The ... sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy decisively conquers even in the worst cases and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles.

IMPORTANT. What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. If your druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above mail charges paid on receipt of price. Internal Treatment $1.50, War Tax 6c. Ointment 50c, War Tax 2c extra. Stocks Strong and Active in New York All the Morning

STEEL COMMON AMONG THE LEADERS

American Sugar, U. S. Rubber, Woolen and Sumatra Make Large Gains

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were strong in New York at noon after [illegible] trouble in the morning. U. S. Steel was among the leaders of the advance, while Mexican Petroleum, American Sugar, U. S. Rubber, American Woolen and Sumatra made large gains, having climbed five points or more at their top prices. The market was more active than for several days.

At 12 o'clock U. S. Steel was up 1⅞ at 102⅝, after selling as high as 103.

Among strong issues were Goodrich, Advance Rumely, Hide and Leather preferred, American Linseed Oil, Midvale and Industrial Alcohol. Rails to advance included Southern Pacific, Reading, N. Y. Central, New Haven and Northern Pacific. Coppers were higher, both Anaconda and Inspiration advancing [illegible] point. Motors were quiet and there was not much trading in shipping shares. Oils and Rubbers were particularly prominent.

Sterling demand opened at 4.1[illegible] and cables at 4.1[illegible]. Call money started at [illegible] per cent.

STOCKS HIGHER AT OPENING.

The market had a strong tone and prices advanced at the opening. The Washington policy in regard to wages of rail employees indicated President Wilson's statement met with Wall Street favor, and if orders to buy which came over overnight [illegible] are significant of public sentiment [illegible] appeal to [illegible] and the public inspired investors and property holders all over the country with confidence. Advances at the start varied from fractions to two points. Among those to make largest initial gains were American Sugar, American Woolen, Atlantic Gulf, Baldwin, Corn Products, Crucible, General Motors, Keystone Tire, Mexican Petroleum and Utah Copper. Railway shares were strong at the start and made an even better showing a little later. Southern Pacific was the most active carrier in early trading. Crucible was the feature among steels, advancing four points within a half hour.

MORE OUTSIDE BUYING.

While trading was still professional in the main, more outside interest was manifested. In regard to railway shares, the belief obtains that any further increase in wages will have to be offset by increased freight rates. Buying of road stocks was based upon this assumption and evidence that congressional attitude toward [illegible] is more favorable. Public opinion is more kindly toward them, too. For years in the past they were regarded as domineering and dictatorial at the capital. Now they are looked upon more as an "under dog" in legislative fights. That they are a vital necessity is universally understood. Less fear of radical rail legislation may be indicated in the result that a $250,000 equipment trust issue will be financed by a syndicate of bankers.

PRICES HIGHER ON BOSTON EXCHANGE

Local Trading Broader and More Active During the Morning

Strength featured stocks in Boston at the opening and a number were active at the start, as well as higher.

Gains were retained here all the morning. There was more breadth to trading and prices had a wider range.

Among issues to advance the most during the forenoon were Parish and Bingham, Carson Hill, Mexican Investments, Gray & Davis, Calumet & Arizona, Mohawk, Quincy, Fairbanks and Punta Alegra Sugar. They were up from one to more than two points at their highest.

A number of issues were showing losses before noon, including St. Mary's Land, Warren Brothers, New Cornelia, Davis Daly, United Drug common, American Telephone, Boston & Maine and Century Steel. Most of them had receded fractionally, but St. Mary's Land and Warren Brothers were off two and United Drug common more than a point at their lowest.

Carson Hill opened at a highest record price and then sold higher.

BOSTON FINANCIAL NOTES.

Carson Hill earnings are increasing month by month and it has paid off all debts incurred in early construction except a $600,000 loan by American zinc interests. By the end of this month this obligation will have been reduced to $500,000.

Capitalization increase certificates filed with the Commissioner of Corporations include Webster Dye & Yarn Mills, Inc., $99,000 to $150,000, and the Public Electric Light Company $800,000 to $1,300,000 by the issue of 5,000 additional shares of preferred stock, par value $100.

For the fiscal year ended by June the operating profit of the Mathieson Alkali Works amounted to $943,962 before depreciation, taxes and various charges. For the 1918 calendar year the company earned $719,982 after taxes.

The Boston money market is described as narrow, with demand diminished. It showed no sign of a change when the week began.

The Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., report for July total operating income increased $191,218; total income increased $37,255 and surplus increased $39,009. For seven months total operating income increased $219,3[illegible] while total income decreased $24,623 and surplus $75,250.

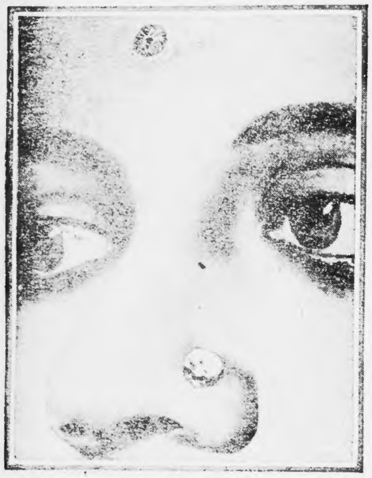
Do You Like the Diamond in the Lady's Nose?

This Woman of Title Will Shortly Show You a Fashion New Here, but Old in India, Where She Comes From

(Copyright, 1919, [illegible].)



If you are looking for a new style, ladies, here you are.

The latest wrinkle. Old in India, out brand new in America.

Above you see a picture of Lady Thackesey, wife of Sir V. D. Thackesey, rich Parsee cotton manufacturer of Bombay, who has just arrived in San Francisco, accompanied by a chef and two cooks.

You see set in her nose a $6,000 diamond, a mark of her rank, and on her forehead you see a small tattooed spot which indicates her caste.

A Parsee, which the tattooed spot proclaims, is one of the descendants of the Persians who settled in India at the end of the seventh century to escape the persecution of the Mohammedans, and who still retain their ancient religion.

A Parsee may eat nothing that has been killed. Nor may he eat anything that has been defiled by the hands of one who has eaten meat. That is the reason for the chef and the cooks. They are especially skilled in cooking vegetables.

But to American women the diamond-decorated nose will seem more important than any religious beliefs or age-old rites and customs.

To wear the diamond correctly you have to have your nose pierced just as you very likely had holes punched in your ears in order to decorate them with dangling jewelry.

In other countries women do not look upon the mutilation of the nose as detracting from personal charm.

In New Guinea, Australia and the Malay States slender bars of wood or bone, five to seven inches long, are worn parallel to the lips through a hole made in the lower part of the septum or middle partition of the nose.

In some of the South American countries a gay feather takes the place of the wood or bone, thus adding a bit of color to the countenance.

These latter customs have the advantage of being much more economical than the Indian jewel, since diamonds are selling since the war at about $500 a carat.

Lady Thackesey is expected to arrive in New York shortly, as her rich husband is on his way to Europe to investigate the cotton conditions there, incidentally seeing what the United States has to offer in the way of interest and business.

One excuse for adopting this new fashion would be to make the distinguished visitor feel at home.

Our Private War in Russia Run on a Piker's Scale

American railway engineers and their assistants worked so expertly in restoring seventy-five miles of wrecked railway on the Murmansk front in Russia that the natives, the Associated Press tells us, were astounded. They thought the "Americanskis" were miracle men.

Now, if this railroad building were to admit food and clothing for the suffering people in Russia, and machinery for their factories, and seed for their fields, and to take in payment the raw materials which they have in abundance and which they are eager to exchange, it would be a delightful example of American energy well applied.

It would comply with what President Wilson once called "the acid test of good faith."

Instead of helping the Russian people we, in a small and thus far futile way, are fighting as well as blockading and starving them.

It will be hard to justify this conduct in the future when Russians, our traditional friends, shall have settled down.

The Russian schoolbooks will not praise us for it.

Our own historians will not be able to explain it as glorious war or to square it with our President's professions.

Even should the reactionaries with whom we are co-operating in northern Russia and Siberia gain control of all of Russia, do you imagine that they will be grateful for such assistance as we are giving? We are winning friends on neither side. We are losing friends on both sides.

APPLE ARGUMENT IN ACTON

George A. Richardson of Boston and Acton caught an autoist filling a bucket with choice apples from one of the Richardson trees. Having been despoiled of many apples, Mr. Richardson remonstrated. The autoist reproached him, saying: "A man who denies another man a bucket of apples is pretty mean." But suppose the autoist caught a farmer snitching a wrench from his auto?

Letters to the Editor

Pay at State Hospitals

Editor Boston American:

Being a constant reader of your paper, would like to call your attention to the State Hospitals for the Insane. It seems that every industry has had an increase in wages except these institutions; where poor wages exist. The work is tiresome and long hours, working every night until 8 p. m. for the small sum of $8.10 (eight dollars and ten cents) per week. Always a shortage of help, the Westboro Hospital being short twenty-one attendants on this date. The helpers in most cases are inefficient. It is time the people of Massachusetts woke up and the representatives of Westboro got busy.

Wants Free Food

Editor Boston American:

I believe in "Utopian" ideas for this country; the government is for the preferred class of people, the rich and those who get big wages. Big paying jobs are few, therefore the government should give away food free, instead of selling it. Poor people cannot afford to pay for food where they don't get the preferred jobs. Free food is what is wanted. It should be given to the second-class restaurants to give away, and the government pay the restauranteurs for service.

BRIGHT STARS CAN BE SEEN IN DAYLIGHT HOURS

By Garrett P. Serviss

"Extreme curiosity makes me ask five questions at one writing: 1. Is it not true that all heavenly bodies are continually in motion? Why, then, are maps drawn representing them as fixed in position? 2. Can the stars be seen by day with an ordinary astronomical telescope? 3. Is it possible during a year's time to view every portion of the firmament surrounding the earth from a fixed point on our globe, like New York? 4. In what physical condition is the centre of the earth? The opinion of my chemistry professor and that of an up-to-date book on physiography clash discouragingly on this topic. 5. Do modern meta-physicians entertain Herbert Spencer's idea that the intrinsic nature of matter will never be revealed to us, and that even were matter presented to us in its absolute condition we could not recognize it as such?—E. H."

1—Only the stars are charted on maps of the heavens. The paths of the planets, moon, comets and other bodies which change their places rapidly are indicated, if at all, by lines on the background. It is possible to chart the places of the stars because, owing to their immense distance, the effect of their motion is, for ordinary purposes, negligible.

The annual displacement produced by the proper motion of the vast majority of the stars is but a small fraction of a single second of arc. Even a star displaced five seconds per year would require nearly two thousand years to move over an arc equal to the apparent diameter of the full moon. Yet its actual motion may be hundreds of miles per second. Its displacement depends upon the ratio of its cross motion to its distance from the earth.

Can See Stars in Daylight.

2—Yes, bright stars can easily be seen in full daylight if you can get your telescope accurately pointed at them, which may be done with the aid of right ascension and declination circles. With a telescope the sky light that enters the eye comes from a very small field immediately around the star, and the higher the magnifying power the smaller and darker the field; but the star, being a point of intense concentrated light, instead of a broad space of relatively feeble luminosity gains in brightness by having more of its rays embraced by the telescope than the unaided eye can take in.

3—It is possible from a point anywhere along the equator, but not from a point situated a considerable distance north or south of the equator. An observer on the equator sees the heavens from pole to pole, so that, as they revolve round him, every part of the entire firmament is presented successively to view. But, at New York, for instance, the north pole of the heavens is situated more than forty degrees above the northern horizon, while the south pole is a corresponding distance below the southern horizon.

Conditions Inside Earth

4—There are no direct means of ascertaining the condition of the central parts of the earth; only more or less probable inferences can be drawn about it. The phenomena of earthquake waves show that the interior of the earth is very rigid, while those of volcanoes show that, in some places at least, it is very hot. Calculation shows both that the pressure at the centre must be enormous and that the heat should be sufficient to melt any known substance. Yet some think that the earth's nucleus is solid.

All agree, however, that the great pressure amounting to not less than forty-five million pounds to the square inch at the centre, must have the effect of holding the nucleus in a quasi-rigid state, whether it be, by definition, gaseous, liquid or solid. So, you see, there is some reason for the discrepancy of opinion between your professor and your text book.

5—I do not know what modern metaphysicians think of the intrinsic nature of matter, and I do not believe that the metaphysical way of approach to that question will ever be anything more than a path over clouds, on which no feet heavier than those of the imagination can safely tread. Science is having a hard enough time approaching it by the way of electricity.

A Rich Country
A Good English Bite
A Clergymen's Strike
A Pig Refrigerator

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1919.)

Nitti, Prime Minister of Italy, urges his people to produce more, and the Italians courageously are going at the task of reconstruction following most ungrateful treatment by the Allies, whose defeat Italy prevented.

It is difficult for this country to understand conditions of poverty in Europe. Even England, only a few years ago the financial centre of the world, seems poor by comparison with the United States.

In all Great Britain there are only 148 individuals with an annual income of $486,666 and over. Think of that for poverty; fewer than a hundred and fifty Englishmen with an annual income of a half a million or more.

You could find one hundred and fifty men with an income of a million a year lunching at the Bankers' Club in New York any day. You could find a half dozen of them waiting outside the door of Mr. Reynolds in the Continental and Commercial Bank building in Chicago, waiting their turn to go in and borrow money to be invested and made to produce an income of another million a year.

We are very rich in this country, but so was England not so long ago, and France, we need the advice about producing wealth, and getting to work in earnest as much as Italy needs it.

On the battlefield, with cannons roaring, a cavalry horse will hastily nibble a bite of grass.

England seems to have learned something from the cavalry horse. She has just taken a nice bite in the gobbling up of Persia. The London Saturday Review says, "We seem to have obtained a tolerably complete protectorate over Persia for the loan of two million pounds."

It certainly was a cheap price, old Persia goes into the British baggage wagon with Egypt and other countries. And the United States is considering an arrangement that would make it necessary for this country to send over men and spend money to handle the situation, if anyone tried to interfere with England in Persia.

Of all the victims of high prices, preachers are undoubtedly most poorly paid, most patient. One worm has turned, the Reverend J. R. Stratton, Baptist, says: "Only a lingering sense of duty, altruism and service prevent the preachers of America from forming a union, calling a strike and telling the country to go to Hell."

The preachers have reason to strike. But a clergyman's strike, it must be confessed, with shame, would probably disturb the community less than any other. Even the grave diggers' strike seems more serious than the preachers' strike. A man can pray for himself, but cannot dig his own grave, when he needs it.

The world interests itself in that which is expensive or profitable. When negroes were slaves, millions of white men were interested in colored babies, in their fathers and mothers, their health, their housing and feeding. They were worth a thousand dollars apiece, when healthy and full grown.

Nobody pays much attention to colored babies now, they have no market quotation. But science and government combined have decided that something must be done for the pigs of the nation, old and young. In the Department of Agriculture a genius has invented a "refrigerator for hogs" that appeals to the kind heart and the fat pocket. You know the misery of a fat man in hot weather. Imagine the misery of a very fat pig, for the pig cannot perspire.

Each pig farmer is advised to build his refrigerator for the Summer, a light frame covered with canton flannel, burlap or duck. On top there is a pan of water with wicks leading from it. Capillary attraction takes the water out of the pan, down the wicks to wet the outside of the refrigerator. Evaporation causes the temperature to fall. And there is a cool, comfortable place in which the pig growing fat without discomfort can spend the Summer, better than any mud hole.

If that invention should work out well, it might be more important to the public than some legislation now going on in Congress.
